mora

Mora is Latin for “to linger, to take pause” — a philosophy that sits at the heart of our wines and the experiences we create around them.

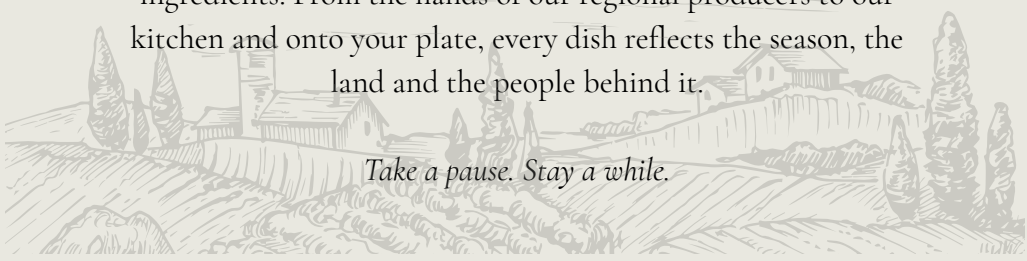

Mora is a second-generation, New Zealand family-owned wine company with deep roots in Central Otago. The Skeggs family’s wine journey began with their first vines planted in Bannockburn in 1996. Today, the family farms 90 hectares across the Pisa and Bannockburn subregions.

At 45 degrees south, Central Otago is a remarkable place to grow grapes. Intense sunlight, long summer days, cool nights and dramatic alpine landscapes create wines with purity, vibrancy and a true sense of place.

We farm our vineyards sustainably, allowing each parcel to find its own voice while treading lightly on the land. From organic farming and native replanting to composting, cover crops and soil enrichment, we’re always looking towards the future.

At Mora, we bring this same philosophy to the table, celebrating artisan food made with thoughtfully sourced, local ingredients. From the hands of our regional producers to our kitchen and onto your plate, every dish reflects the season, the land and the people behind it.

Take a pause. Stay a while.
